Arctic Explorer Will Next Endeavor to Force the Northeast Passage.

French Explorer Invited to Accompany Norwegian to Herschel Island.

Two Hundred People, Two Women in Marooned Whaler's Colony.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. S. PETERSBURG, Dec. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. Roald Amundsen will not return to civilization this winter. He intends to return to Herschel Island to his ship, the Gjøa, and next summer start out to complete the circumnavigation of the globe in the Arctic regions. To do this he must go through the Northeast Passage, a feat second only to the one he has just accomplished in forcing the Northwest Passage. When he reaches Norway he will have done something no other Arctic explorer has ever accomplished. In a brass cylinder, soldered at both ends, Capt. Amundsen has mailed to Dr. Nansen his report of his expedition through the Northwest Passage, and the result of his observations at the north magnetic pole. This result follows a cablegram giving the first details, on which the tolls were $800.

Capt. Amundsen has invited Dr. Anthony Varie, a Frenchman, who will lead the Tukon polar expedition to the North Pole, to accompany him back to Herschel Island. Capt. Amundsen, who is now in the north magnetic pole. This result follows a cablegram giving the first details, on which the tolls were $800.

PROUD SECTION BOSS.

John Kenna, Brother of Vice-President of Santa Fe Railroad, Perhaps Fatally Injured.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. DENVER (Colo.) Dec. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Too proud to accept a position on the Santa Fe railroad where his brother, E. F. Kenna is first vice-president, John Kenna was seriously hurt at Burnham yesterday while working with a section gang on the Denver and Rio Grande. When removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, an examination of his terribly crushed left foot and leg led the doctors to believe that the accident, because of his age, sixty-four years, will result fatally.

For several months Kenna has been assistant foreman of the section crew working on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad near Burnham. He attempted to cross the tracks in front of a switch engine yesterday, but was run down and his left foot and leg were crushed beneath the wheels.

Kenna came to Colorado several years ago from Holyoke, Mass., the family home, and engaged in mining. He was well-to-do, but lost his fortune and since then has been working as a day laborer. He is said to have declined all offers of help from his wealthy brother and other influential members of his family, and to have started at the bottom of railroad work, hoping to recover his lost fortune through his own efforts.

FIRST BLOOD SHED IN TELEGRAPH STRIKE

Sudden Change for the Worse in the Russian Situation.

Minister of the Interior Durnova Throws Down the Gauntlet to the Labor Organizations by Arresting the President of the Workmen's Council—Ferment Among Troops Increasing—Severe Criticism of Count Witte.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 9, Saturday evening.—Another crisis is at hand, involving the indefinite prolongation of the strike, the probable immediate precipitation of a general strike throughout Russia, and a possible final struggle between the government and the proletariat.

This sudden change for the worse is the result of the shedding of the first blood in the telegraph strike this afternoon almost simultaneously with the action of M. Durnova, Minister of the Interior, in throwing down the gauntlet to the labor organizations by arresting M. Krustaleff, president of the Executive Committee of the Workmen's Council without warning.

MUTINY OF TROOPS INCREASING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, Dec. 10.—The ferment among the troops is increasing. A hundred soldiers of the Keshim regiment headed a procession this morning singing revolutionary songs. In Marzalkowska street their way was barred by a detachment of the Grochowak regiment, the commander of which ordered his men to fire. The soldiers refused to do so, and permitted the procession to pass. The commanding officer then fled.

A rumor is current that the whole garrison of the Warsaw citadel has mutinied. It is impossible to verify the rumor as the authorities refuse admission to the fortress.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. Peter Struve, a man who perhaps did more than all others to sow the seeds of liberal ideas in Russia, has given his opinion upon Count Witte and his policy and it is highly interesting.

M. Peter Struve is the owner of the Gorko Wodenski, a paper published in Russian over the frontier, and taboos as though it contained the plague on this side of the border.

Witte appears in the present business of bitter repression to leave all to the police genius of M. Durnova and to himself playing the waiting game. "But what is he waiting for? That is waiting for a social reaction which will enable him to depend upon a tame and obedient Durnova to protect the country from all extremes on the one hand and to keep the peace on the other. Such an idea would be no hope at all."

Witte has in view to do something for the peasants, and satisfy them while intentionally neglecting the workmen and indeed encouraging them, by strikes, commercial disorganization and disputes, to exhaust themselves.

"Then, with the help of the Duma, the exhausted country could once again be brought under bureaucratic domination. To his enlightened mind it appeared quite clear. His plan is apparently psychologically and historically faultless. He has but one fault—he has not an atom of statesmanlike ideas."

"He is nothing but a stock exchange speculator in regard to the social feeling and the material interests of a section of the people. But the Russian revolution is no stock exchange for political scrip, and the broker's mind cannot either grasp or measure its great depth."

"What, for instance, will happen when, at the expected period, the social fabric is not exhausted, when the peasants are found not to be satisfied with general aims, when discord in the army spreads. It will be merely the irony of fate. Count Witte, by his action, has betrayed the intentions of the manifesto of November, 1905, and its constitutional meaning."

"All those stock exchange speculators are setting serious people to thinking deeply as to the future of the country. The curtain must soon fall, and the stock exchange speculators will be a fiasco."

Count Witte is full of plans, but so was Gen. Kuropatkin, and they never came off. Nor will the Premier's. He is trying the impossibility of sailing between two winds. The time is coming when statesmanlike plans will have to be taken to save Russia, and for that the Democratic Constitutional party is planning, waiting and working."

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS. BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Conservative five morning newspapers are unanimous to admit that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has succeeded in forming a much stronger administration than had been thought possible. The Liberal papers are full of enthusiasm and of cordial congratulations to the Premier on having not only united all sections of his party in the ministry, but on having displayed great discrimination in giving its individual members congenial posts. They express the conviction that such a Cabinet will inspire confidence, both at home and abroad. The names of Herbert Asquith, Sir Edward Grey and Richard Burdon Haldane alone, it is held, will give great weight to the ministry and insure that there will be no revival of Gladstonian home rule, despite the fact that the Cabinet contains a preponderance of those favorable to home rule.

The Conservative organs point out that the most enthusiastic home ruler, John Morley, has been sent to the India office, where he will have little influence on internal politics. The omission of Lord Rosebery is naturally the subject of much comment, and there is considerable curiosity as to what attitude he will adopt when he addresses the Liberal League today. It is noticeable that his son-in-law, the Earl of Cromar, is in the Cabinet. The composition of the Cabinet presents no surprising features. It is larger than was expected, the last Liberal Cabinet only numbering sixteen members. Six of the new secretaries, besides Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, have held Cabinet rank before, though most of them have held ministerial appointments, while three, David Lloyd George, Augustine Birrell and John Burns, had never before held office of any kind.

The rapid rise of John Burns from the workshop to the Cabinet, with a salary of $18,000 a year,
